FEW VOTERS

In spite of the fact that one of our most important state officials will be chosen Saturday, most voters will not bother to go to the polls. Probably no more than five percent of the eligible voters in Medina County will take a few minutes in order to help choose our next Attorney General.

We hope that this prediction is wrong, but all indications are that the vast majority of voters couldn't care less about who gets elected as the state's chief law enforcement officer. However, we hope that you are one of the few who do care, and that you will go to the polls Saturday and vote.

OUR CHOICE

We think that the best-qualified of the two candidates for Attorney General is Crawford Martin of Hillsboro, a former state legislator and former Secretary of State. He is the choice of the majority of the lawyers of Texas, and led by nearly 100,000 votes in the first primary.

While his opponent appeals to the labor and liberal groups, we think that Martin has much more appeal to the moderate and conservative voters. He has the background and experience to make Texas an outstanding attorney general.

We hope you will join us in voting for Crawford Martin Saturday.

BEDTIME STORY

It was the late Josh Billings, who said that he left his bed in the morning, not because he was dissatisfied with it, but because it would be inconvenient to carry it around with him all day.

PUBLIC HEARING

The Parks and Wildlife Department's public hearing for Medina County will be held Monday, June 6, at 2 p.m. in the Courthouse in Hondo.

Cattle Raisers To Meet June 17

The Board of Directors of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association will hold its quarterly meeting in Wichita Falls June 17-18.

An executive committee luncheon at noon June 17, will kick the meeting off to a start. That afternoon, the Animal Health Committee will meet for an important discussion on the brucellosis program in Texas. The committee is headed by Dolph Briscoe Jr. of Uvalde.

Two men prominent in the brucellosis program have been invited to appear before the committee, said Joe S. Fletcher, secretary - general manager of the Association. The two men are Dr. A. M. Pickard, a veterinarian from Raymondville, Texas, and Dr. E. A. Schif, who heads brucellosis work for the USDA.

The Honorable Graham Purcell, Congressman from District 13, Wichita Falls, will appear before the directors at a morning meeting June 18, to discuss the report of the National Commission of Food Marketing.

Also up for discussion by the directors are new laws or changes in laws presently on statute books which affect agriculture. The House Interim Committee of Agriculture is presently holding hearings across the state to study problems along the same lines.

Owls Lose Tuesday, Preen For Friday

Nine batters stranded Tuesday night, spelled defeat for the Hondo Owls as a tough team from Kenedy took the top end of a 1-0 decision in the first of a best-of-three regional playoff series on Owl ground.

Steve Ward only allowed four hits and fanned thirteen in the seven inning stint for the Owls. Two of the hits came in the top of the seventh, when Dwight Bingham singled with Tommy Idom tripling him home for the lone run of the game.

Public Hearing Set For Monday

In line with the annual public hearings on regulations applying to wildlife resources and legislation, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will hold such a meeting in Hondo at the courthouse on Monday, June 6, at 2:00 p.m.

The hearing is open to the public. Any comments anyone may have to offer regarding existing regulations or proposed changes will be recorded for later consideration at the TPWD meeting in Austin in July.

NAVY OFFERS OLD RATING FOR SOME REENLISTMENTS

The Chief of Naval Personnel in Washington, D.C. announced that the Seventh Navy Recruiting Area (Composed of Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas), led the nation in re-enlistments in the first half of fiscal year 1966.

Captain J. E. Savage, U.S. Navy, Director Navy Recruiting, Seventh Navy Recruiting Area, whose offices are located at 1114 Commerce Street in Dallas, stated that the Navy is putting continued emphasis on its re-enlistment programs.

Personnel are urgently needed in the Deck, Ordnance, Electronics, Precision Equipment, Administrative and Clerical, Engineering and Hull, Aviation, Hospital and Construction Groups. Many ratings within these groups are open to personnel who have been separated from the Navy for less than four years. These personnel may be re-enlisted in the rating held at time of separation.

The Navy has a great need in the Construction Group of not only Ex-Navy Sea Bees but also personnel who have had no prior military experience. These men may be enlisted in advanced pay grades provided they have had significant civilian experience in construction, or training at various vocational schools.

Captain Savage stated that many personnel who have been separated from the Navy in the past may be unaware that they can return to active duty in the pay grade held at the time of separation. These Ex-Navy men, and men in all phases of the Construction Field, are urged to contact the nearest Navy Recruiter for further information concerning the Navy Open Rate List and the Group VIII Program for Construction Personnel.

DAY-LONG CELEBRATION IN CASTROVILLE SUNDAY

Former and present students of St. Louis High School, graduates of Moye Military Academy, as well as all residents of Castroville and friends of the Sisters of Divine Providence have been invited to join in the City of Castroville's salute to the Sisters, at 10:30 a.m., Sunday, June 5.

The invitation is extended through Charles L. Suehs, Mayor of Castroville.

The Centennial Celebration of the Sisters of Divine Providence

Summer Program Begins Monday

Monday, June 6, will be first day of the city's summer recreation program for vacationing school children. Hours are to be from eight o'clock to 11:30 each Monday through Friday in the Lacy School gym.

Arts, crafts, sports, and indoor games, plus a daily baseball game are among the featured activities. Participants are asked to bring an entrance fee of twenty-five cents to help defray the cost of materials.

On the staff of this summer's program are Richard Adams as director with assistants Lorine Faselier and Faye Jean Wiemers.

which is being observed during 1966 throughout Texas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma, has special significance for Castroville. It was here that the Sisters made their permanent settlement in 1868 among the Alsatians, for whom they felt a special kinship.

They had come from Alsace themselves only two years previously, and had settled in Austin, Texas, temporarily. The Convent and School were erected beside the first Catholic Church which had been built in Castroville in 1846. This church, standing at the end of the quadrangle in front of Moye High School, will receive a historical commemorative plaque presented by the Castro Garden Club throughout the Texas State Historical Survey Committee for the occasion.

Speakers at the unveiling will include Henry A. Guerra, as master of ceremonies and Bishop Leven. Reverend Mother M. Amata, Superior General, will respond for the Congregation.

A barbecue dinner will follow at Koenig Park, when former superiors of the three Schools conducted by the Sisters of Divine Providence will have the opportunity to meet their former students and friends.

A very light voter turnout is expected for the democratic Party "run-off" primary election to be held Saturday, June 4, throughout Texas.

In Medina County the only contest on the ballot will be for State Attorney General, with former Secretary of State Crawford Martin of Hillsboro and State Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio seeking the post. Martin led Spears by nearly 100,000 votes in the first primary, in which State Sen. Gallo-way Calhoun was also a candidate.

Inasmuch as there are no local or district and only one state contest on the ballot, Medina County Democratic Chairman Ferd C. Meyer of Devine has announced that only four polling places in Medina County will be open Saturday. He said that the number of polling places is being held to a minimum because of the short ballot and anticipated light turnout.

Persons who normally vote at the four polling places in Hondo, at D'Hanis, Yancey and Quihi, will vote at the Courthouse in Hondo. Those who normally vote at Castroville, LaCoste, Rio Medina, Dunlay and Mico will vote at the American Legion Hall in Castroville; and those who normally vote at the three polling places in Devine and at Biry will vote at the JP Office in Devine. Natalia voters will vote at the American Legion Hall there.

Presiding judges will be Edgar Stiegler, Hondo; Melvin Jagge, Castroville; Frank Silvey, Devine; and Clyde Day, Natalia.

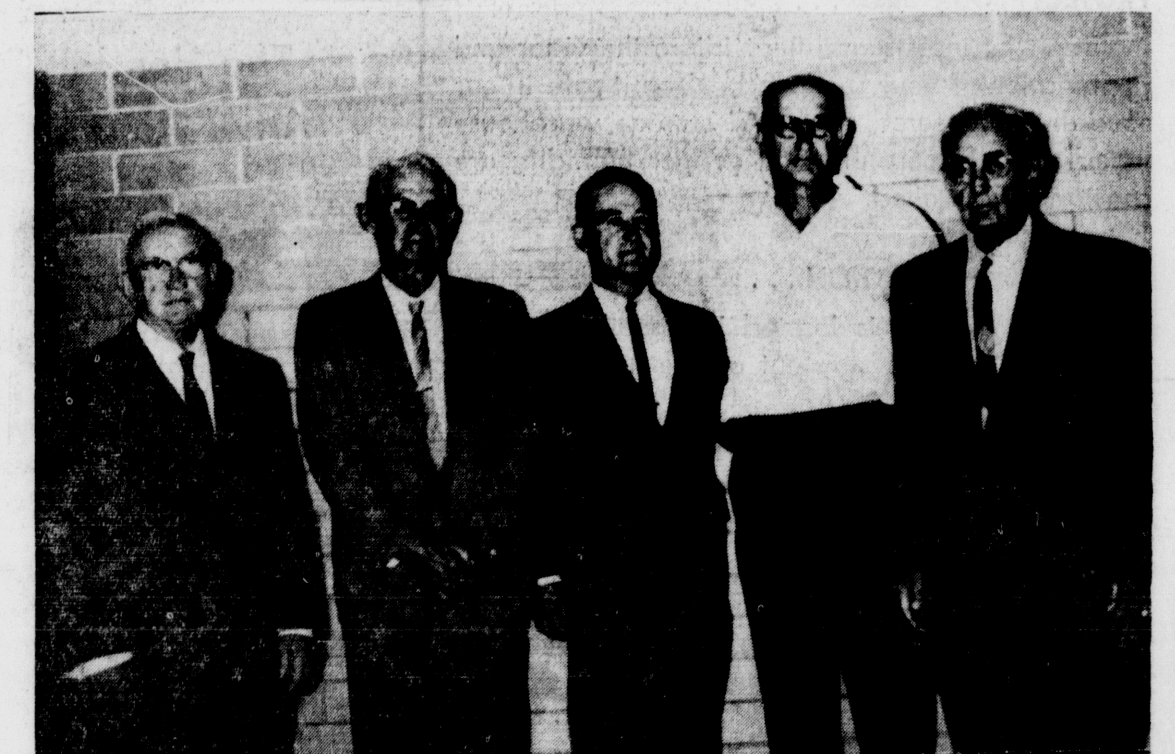

Swimming Pool Opens Saturday

Woolfs Brothers announce the season opening of the municipal swimming pool on Saturday of this week, June 4. They say that the city has gone to "considerable expense and effort" to repair and improve the pool to make it a credit to the community.

Pool hours are one o'clock to 8:00 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday; one to seven on Sundays. Pool will be closed each Monday.

Season passes are offered to families as has been the custom. These range in price from $10 for a family of three to $15 for families with more than six members. Children under eight years of age will pay twenty cents; above that age, thirty cents.

Unless children under 12 have passed the swimming qualification test, they must be accompanied by a responsible adult. Such tests are given during hours at the pool, usually after six o'clock.

BANK BOARD — Officers and directors of the Southwest Federal Land Bank Association are (L-R) E. C. Buckley of San Antonio, vice president; Ben De-

Joire of Dunlay; Walter J. Schulze of Cotulla; J. Hal Woodward of Pearsall, and C. W. Barker of Carrizo Springs, president. DeJoire was re-elected to the board at the association's annual meeting held Saturday in Devine.

SENIORS TELL OF THEIR TRIP

Saturday, May 21, at 6:00 a. m., 18 seniors and three sponsors of D'Hanis High School boarded the bus for Galveston. After six hours of riding we arrived at the Nautilus Motel, unpacked and watched the rain come down. Rain or no rain, we were going swimming. As soon as we had our bathing suits on, sunny skies appeared and 18 kids headed for the Gulf.

With heavy eyelids we boarded the bus for church Sunday morning.

Later we toured the aircraft carrier USS Lexington. The boys thought the planes were very interesting. The girls liked those sailors! Motorcycle rides were fun.

Monday morning found us out on the Gulf on the decks of the Jolly Roger, fishing or feeding the fish.

After a refreshing afternoon of sleep, we were active again. This time a bunch of seniors and their sponsors were turned loose on a bump car track.

Tuesday morning we headed for Houston and the Astrodome. After touring the Eighth Wonder of the world and satisfying our hunger, we were on our way home.

Included on the trip were Rusty Attaway, Dennis Burrell, Rothie Carle, Rachel Cortez, Judy Huesser, Emil Kelly, Brenda Koch, R. J. Lutz, David Merritt, M. H. Ney, Irene Rodriguez, Jimmy Rothie, Adolfo Santos, Santos Silva, Margaret Ann Smith, Bernard Weynand, Ralph Zerr, Cathy Zinsmeyer, and sponsors, Mrs. Barbara Pope, Mr. Wayne Cheney and Mr. Roy Kile. Danny Cortez who was also a graduate could not find it in his heart to leave his bride-to-be behind. So he was left behind.

Haegelin-Stevens Vows Read In Catholic Rites

In a late afternoon wedding last Sunday, May 29, 1966, Miss Nancy Kathryn Haegelin became the bride of Homer Thrall Stevens, Junior. The ceremony was read by the Reverend Harold Ehlinger and the Reverend Charles Borgers in the sanctuary of St. John's Catholic Church, Hondo.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Alexander Haegelin of Hondo and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thrall Stevens of Bandera.

Entering the sanctuary with her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight silk peau de soie fashioned with a bodice and sleeves made of re-embroidered Alencon lace sprinkled with seed pearls. The slender skirt fell from a lifted waistline accented with lace appliques. Lace motifs and pearls highlighted the detachable court train. A camelot of lace and silk with an outline of pearls held the full veil of illusion. Her bouquet was of Phalaenopsis orchids with Stephanotis.

Attending the bride were her cousin, Miss Joan Haegelin of Dallas, as maid of honor and Mrs. Charles E. Miller, Jr., of Paris as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Mary Jay Roberts of Pearsall, Carolyn Swayze of Kerrville, and Barbara Nicol and Joanne Cockrell, both of San Antonio. All wore floor-length gowns of Nile green chiffon with halo headpieces made of fresh flowers and sweetheart ivy. Their bouquets were nosegays of mixed flowers.

The groom's attendants were Larry Graham of Hunt as best man, with groomsmen Al Tom Schiffers of Hondo and Ronnie Ulbrich, Alton Rhoden, Tom Daniels and Larry Stewart, all of Houston. Albo Haegelin and Jack Swayze served as ushers.

At the reception held in the garden at the home of the bride's parents, Misses Suzy Meyer and Pam Gray attended the bride's book. Assisting in serving were Misses Ellen Langfeld, Ann Bracher, Georgia Braden and Mrs. Frances Low.

Greetings & Sally-tations

by Sally Brucks

A family has been called the "Johnny Appleseeds of Dallas" because they have given thousands of seedling trees from their acre-and-a-half grounds. Well, I feel a brag about to bust loose. In Medina County, the Johnny Appleseed title falls to the Paul Reilys who, for years, have donated trees, shrubs, flowers to churches, orphanages and homes all over Texas. Their seedling trees and plants come from a two-lot piece of ground. If you want to learn how to raise a lot of food stuff in a small plot, the Reilys have the answer. The mounds of growing plants and vegetables are in all stages of the growth cycle almost the year 'round. As soon as a crop is harvested, seeds go back into the mounds. It is a quick course in agronomy just to walk through their yard.

Mrs. Maurice Lutz brought in a shadow box of the Crucifixion with the figure of Christ in gold plate on a wooden cross. Mrs. Lutz said the box was a gift to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mechler, when they were married in 1883. The box was given to her mother, Mrs. George Graff, Sr., and then Mrs. Lutz felt heir to it in 1951. It has been in her family for 83 years. It is a most interesting relic. The story of the Crucifixion is told in objects of shiny pewter. There is the robe topped with the dice, the vinegar cup on a tray, the pitcher and bowl, the crowing cock, the spear and swab, ladder, hammer, lantern, white cups, the soldier's weapons, the money bag with the 30 pieces of silver, the cat-o-nine-tails, and the cloth with which they wiped Christ's face and the impression of His face upon it. There is a silk cloth border at the sides of the shadow box the sides of the shadow box the city. At each side of the rock on which the wooden cross stands, are the paper figures of Mary and Joseph, kneeling. The descriptive plaque on the box reads: "The Kingdom Come, 100 days' indulgence each time. (Pope Pius IX, 14 June 1877)." Mrs. Lutz isn't sure what she is going to do with this religious relic, but a museum or church might be interested in having it.

Several weeks ago Lorene Schulte was in the office to give us the list of volunteer workers on the Cancer Fund drive. To say she was proud of the volunteers is putting it mildly. They collected over $900 which is much better than last year, according to Lorene. However, funds are always needed. She says if you were skipped in the door to door canvass, mail your contribution to her or call her and she will pick it up. Make checks payable to the Cancer Fund, please, says Lorene.

The Jean Ulbrichs are Houston-bound this weekend to see their son, Ronnie, graduate from Rice University. Ronnie will receive his Bachelor of Commerce degree Saturday evening. After graduation, he will work in the sales division of Jones and Laughlin, a subsidiary of U.S. Steel in Morgan City, Louisiana. If that good-looking boy went to Rice to learn how to remain a bachelor it's time somebody un-learned it.

Recently, wrote about snake-time being here. Evelyn McFarland, editor of the Sabinal Times, decided I ought to make "double-sure" that folks take heed, and sent me a picture of Tex Sullivan's two-headed rattlesnake which appears somewhere in this issue. She wrote: Dear Sally:

I read in your column where you are warning your readers against our old enemy, the rattlesnake. Did you or any one you know ever see a two-headed one? I never have, but seeing is believing, and am sending you a picture of one caught in 1948 by Tex Sullivan when he was employed at the Reptile Garden at the San Antonio zoo. There is an old saying that two heads are better than one, but in this case it might be called double jeopardy. This snake actually ate with either or both mouths, so I suppose in this case, at least as far as this monster is concerned, it's an ill wind that blows no good since enemies would be at a great disadvantage.

Anyway, the snake lived several months in captivity and then went where all good or bad snakes should. At this time of year they are crawling all over the place and we can't emphasize the danger too much.

Sincerely,
Evelyn

Mrs. Patrick McGraw of D' Hanis was in to pick up a telegram confirming rabies in a skunk they had taken to the State Health Department in Austin. She explained that around May 15, late at night, they heard a commotion in their dog house at the rear of their yard and went to investigate. Their cat had declared the dog house the maternity ward and the dog had moved to the front porch. When the light was flashed in the dog house, a skunk had one of the kittens in its mouth and the cat and other kittens looked mauled. The McGraws shot the skunk. They noticed foam in its mouth and nostrils so they regretfully did away with their pet cat and her kittens. The dog had gotten in on the act, and while they couldn't find a bit mark on him, have kept him in chains, just in case. Mrs. McGraw said they took the animal in to Austin because it was less expensive to make the trip than to pay the large fee for having it shipped. She said this might serve as a warning to others to not only be careful about snakes but to watch for rabid varmints as well. So said, so done.

Dr. J. L. Mims Jr. of San Antonio wrote the editor of the Texas Parks & Wildlife magazine, June issue and I thought it was our Dr. Joe but un-unh, it wasn't. In the column this week I've mentioned snakes and rabid skunks not realizing how these topics might sound to out-of-staters. Dr. J. L. has a good point. He wrote, "The appeal of the Texas out-of-doors is that it is not perfect anywhere, but the challenges are gentler than most places. Our snakes are not as vicious as those in the Everglades, and our summers no worse than most places in the U.S.A. We have almost seven months of Colorado summer in Texas. Let's quit bragging about our extremes and brag that somewhere in Texas it's pleasant to be all year around."

To Mrs. G. H. Weynand of Yancey goes the title of Pollyanna of the Week. She stopped by the office to send a message to her son, Pvt. Leo F. Kempf, at Fort Gordon, Georgia. Leo is being sent to a new assignment in Europe and had hoped to get home for a few days but his leave was cancelled. Mrs. Weynand said they were disappointed, but "there's always a good side. Although he will be away for several years, at least he isn't being sent to Viet Nam."

Marvin Schweers just might find himself with a new job. He was in San Antonio Monday getting some special equipment from Heusinger Hardware Company. As he was rambling around the store waiting for his package he was asked if he'd see to it that a six-month subscription to the Anvil Herald was sent to the store. As soon as Marvin got back to Hondo he called us and the subscription is on its way. Believe I'll talk to Marvin about selling subscriptions for us since he did so well with this one.

We celebrated Ward Pope's birthday with a dinner at Gertrude Carle's home last Sunday, even if we were a day early. Us Debut-ants had fun and food galore. We learned that Millie Eckhart's Anne and family (the Charles Benetts) will be moving from Bryan to Arlington real soon and that Eleanor and family (the Tommy Hollmigs) will also leave Bryan soon for Nacogdoches. Gertrude Carle's children, Robert and Jane with their small fry have moved to Arlington near Dallas. Since Eunice Kollman, Ward Pope and I have children in Dallas and Sis has so many friends there, we are planning a traveling party in the near future.

The nicest gift Ward received didn't arrive until the day after her birthday. She had a call from her son, Paul, saying that Norris Paul Pope III arrived Tuesday, May 31. His official announcement appears elsewhere in the paper. Told Ward her grandson is the soul of tact. He waited until the day after her birthday so as not to steal her thunder. Paul told Ward that his son has black hair long enough to part. Paul the Third is with it, man. He was born into a Beate-minded jet set world and nobody is going to catch him short in the hair style department. I'll venture he howls and yodels as melodiously — if not more so than the Beate band. But, to him I'll listen.

One of these days the Ralph Jones family is going to run out of graduates but not this year. Last week, Eric graduated from A&M, Ralph Junior from Hondo High School, and Ann Gay from St. John's Parochial school. Ralph commented that it was a "wild" week.

One of the things I've promised myself is that some day I'm going to college. I think my stumbling block has been that I'm too poor — like Red Skelton — poor in English, history and math.

REPEAT MUMPS

Q. If a person has mumps on one side is it possible to have an attack later on the other side?

A. Probably not. Mumps produces some general immunity or protection against subsequent attacks but the degree of immunity is not as great as that following such diseases as measles or chicken pox. Regardless of the extent of immunity, mumps is not likely to be localized. Therefore, development of mumps "on the other side" probably never occurs.

FINGERPRINT LIKENESS

Q. Is it true that no two fingerprints are ever alike?

A. The probability of two persons having identical fingerprints is estimated to be about 1 in 64 billion. Man's awareness of the patterned ridges on his fingers and palms goes back thousands of years. The most famous fingerprint designs are carvings on the walls of Neolithic burial passages on an island off Brittany.

Pharmacy

Ancient proofs are found proving pharmacy was one of the earliest professions in fact, ancient Egyptian inscriptions illustrate the process of distillation, and a papyrus 3300 B.C. contains a prescription formula.

The first historical mention in this country of the manufacture of drugs were the instructions given to Sir Francis Wyatt, Governor of Virginia by the king in the year 1621. He was instructed to attend to the manufacture of Walnut Oil. (More next week)

To hear some people tell it, the javelina stands ten feet tall and has a temper like a short-fused stick of dynamite, ready to go off at the slightest provocation.

Probably no other animal, certainly none in Texas, has a reputation that is blown so far out of proportion to its actual character. Actually, javelina is a fairly small creature weighing 40 pounds or less that will flee at the first hint of danger. There are some people like August Timmerman, game warden at Hondo, who actually run the pigs down with dogs and catch them alive.

Timmerman debunks this talk about the ferocity of the javelina. He says it isn't vicious at all.

Probably much of this talk can be attributed to the javelina's poor eyesight. Often when one whiffs human scent, it will take off through the brush, running right at the hunter. This is because it can't distinguish the human. Naturally, the hunter believes the little animal to be "charging" him. Thus the overblown reputation of the javelina gets another follower.

But despite its dubious reputation, the javelina is a sporting game animal. They are quite plentiful in the brush country of South Texas and it is fascinating to hunt them in this thorny environment.

One of the favorite ways to hunt javelinas is with dogs. Since a javelina leaves a distinctive odor behind, from the musk bag on its hip, it can be easily trailed by dogs.

This is about as sure-fire as any hunting in Texas. There are people like Timmerman at Hondo who can line up hunters, for $50 per hunter, with two javelinas guaranteed.

This type of hunting requires a trained dog pack, of course, and that's the secret. It doesn't take an experienced dog long to get on the track and bring the pigs to bay.

Although the javelina season runs concurrently with the deer season, Nov. 16-Dec. 31, there is no closed season on the pigs and there is no limit on the number you can kill. Winter, after deer season has closed, is the favorite hunting time. Then the weather is cold, which makes for good dog hunting, and there is no danger of snakes.

NO CLOSED SEASON
Counties that have no closed season and no specified bag limit include Crockett, Schleicher, Menard, Sutton, Kimble, Edwards, Uvalde, Medina, Frio, Zavala, Dimmit and Webb with the latter six being the best possibility. Karnes, Zapata, Jim Hogg and Brooks, all prime javelina counties, have no closed season but do have a hunter bag limit of two per year.

There are several ways to hunt javelina. One of the most convenient is to hunt them just as you would deer, from an elevated stand.

Get up on one of these windmill-like structures scattered through the brush country and wait and look. Sooner or later, you'll probably glimpse two or more of the pigs stealing into the open.

Another method is stalk hunting.

To me, this is the most fascinating method of all. You creep stealthily through the brush, always looking, listening and smelling. This is one kind of hunting where your nose is a definite asset. Often you can smell the pigs or hear them grunting, and clicking their teeth long before you see them.

Probably more javelinas are bagged with deer rifles, by hunters after deer, than by any other weapon. But actually, this is far too much firepower. The javelina isn't a tough animal and it doesn't require much bullet to bring one down.

22 RIMFIRE PISTOL
When chasing them with dogs, most hunters prefer the ordinary .22 rimfire pistol. They move in close after the pigs have been brought to bay and shoot them in the head.

For stalk hunting the .22 Magnum is a suitable cartridge. Also, quite good is the .30-30 carbine, since most shots will be at close range and must be made quickly, before the pigs are swallowed by the dense brush.

The javelina is very quick on its feet, for short distances, but it doesn't travel very far in one spurt. Often you can stay on the trail of a herd and soon come upon them again.

IN MEMORIAM

I cannot say and I will not say that he is dead — he is just away.

With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand
He has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be since he lingers there.

And you, O you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return,
Think of him forging on, as dear in the love of There as the love of Here.
Think of him still as the same, I say;
He is not dead — he is just away.

Dedicated to our beloved Husband and Father.

REMEMBER WHEN...

10 YEARS AGO 1956

Two new faces have been added to the already growing city of Hondo. Roanoke Greathouse and Ralph Cole, May graduates of Texas A&M College, have been employed to work on the Anvil Herald staff.

20 YEARS AGO 1946

Railroad strikes can not stop delivery of the Hondo Anvil Herald, subscribers in Medina County discovered when they went to their mail boxes last week.

So that Anvil Herald readers would not be disappointed, a special trip was made Friday morning to deliver papers to Dunlay, Rio Medina, Mico, Castrovilla, LaCoste and Devine. Yancey, D'Hanis and other towns in the county received their papers by star route, not affected by the railroad strike.

30 YEARS AGO 1936

Most of the business places of Hondo were closed Tuesday and a great number of her people spent the day celebrating with the D'Hanis folks at Old Fort Lincoln. They were highly pleased with the day's program and congratulated the people of D'Hanis on the success of the undertaking.

40 YEARS AGO 1926

This has been a stirring week for 15 of Hondo's young people as the grand finale of their high school days. At the baccalaureate services, the Rev. W. S. Ezell, pastor of the local Methodist Church, admonished them, in language so plain as not to be misunderstood, to seek success, but in their seeking to remember that successful life does not consist of the accumulation of material things or the achievement of selfish pleasures but rather in the building of sturdy character and the living of lives of usefulness.

50 YEARS AGO 1916

The Black Creek Home Economics Club of Biry is having what they call a "cat in the bag" sale for the benefit of the Enterprise school, a fine opportunity for someone to win a prize.

60 YEARS AGO 1906

While other towns are reporting lists of High School graduates Hondo must flock alone as she has none to report. This should not be so. Something should be done to put Hondo where she belongs in educational progress. (In the next issue, this comment was reprinted from the Floresville Chronicle of May, 1906: Come over and let us mingle our weeps. Floresville is shy on graduates this year too. Nary a graduate did we have.)

Here in Hondo

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Tomerlin and Mrs. L. H. Pichot visited Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kilmer and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Eggen, in San Antonio Sunday. Mrs. Eggen, sister of Mrs. Pichot, is recovering satisfactorily from a serious illness.

Tracy and Dana Firsching are guests this week of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. V. Horace Crow. The Firschings are moving from Houston to Beaumont to make their home. Mrs. Firsching is the former Ruthie Crow.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

The Anvil Herald
Hondo, Texas

Dear Editor:
Maybe Medina County has had all the rain it takes to make everyone happy. But let us not forget our drought years. I saw it this way in 1892 when we had two very wet years. But when the dry years came along, we went through what was called the seven-year drought.

All the rivers went dry and there was no water anywhere. To find well water we dug right into the river beds with no water to be found even there. Stock died for want of water. I remember that my father and our neighbors had to move their stock along the Nueces River looking for any little lakes or water holes, just below Crystal City.

Then even the lakes went dry. We even had to haul water for camp use. We took the horses to the Rio Grande to get a drink of water which was strictly forbidden in that area in those days. Couldn't even ship cattle out on the railroad as the stock money one got didn't even pay for the freight.

We finally sold what we had left to Mr. Ned Puliam who paid us $4 per cow and moved them to Mexico and we threw any calves in free.

This is just a reminder of what we might have to expect after all these rainy times. I think we should try to build dams on the Hondo and Seco and prepare ahead for any drought disaster which might come some day. Maybe Medina Dam could be raised about another 30 feet to hold more water for the future. Someday that Lake district might become a real recreation spot if some ten million dollars could be invested to place a going town there.

I think this would be money well spent and would pay off better than wars which do not pay in any way but trouble and heartache.

Yours truly,
William Huegele

SECO PHILOSOPHER COMPARES PROBLEM Of Parking Horses vs. Cars

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a look at the traffic problem this week.

Dear editor:

According to an article in a newspaper which I found caught on a corner post where my pasture makes a right angle and which I pulled off as that post has enough to do to hold up the fence without any extra weight being added, there are so many cars in this country now, 90 million at the moment and multiplying faster than people, that city people are having more and more difficulty getting anywhere.

A survey showed that at peak traffic periods in big cities cars travel about 6 to 8 miles an hour, which is no faster than you could go with a horse and buggy.

I was discussing this with a neighbor and he said, "See there, that's what I've been arguing. We're no better off with cars than we were with buggies. It was a mistake to ever start building them. They ought to be outlawed."

I didn't argue with him, but I got to thinking, maybe he has a point; then I thought some more. Ninety million cars, I'll admit, is a lot of cars, but have you ever stopped to think how many buggies 90 million would be?

Can you imagine New York City at 5 p.m. with 350,000 horses and buggies jammed up in Times Square?

Trying to find places to park that many cars during the working day is impossible enough, but what kind of a problem would you have trying to tie up and feed that many horses? Just getting them up into the ten-decker storage garages would stagger the imagination. There are other problems too which I won't go into, but the flies would be terrible.

As for the traffic jams with cars, it's one thing to have a woman driver hold up traffic for ten blocks back, but you think it'd be any better with a few balky horses scattered up and down the line?

I tell you, people who want to go back to the good old days are welcome to try, but they'll never make it. Ninety million horses lined up on the roads bumper to bumper.....I'll stay at home.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

LOCAL BUSINESS

ADS IN HOME NEWSPAPER MORE EFFECTIVE, COST LESS

Three of the largest newspaper publishers in New York City have merged into a single company. Again, it is a signal for observers to wonder about the future of the newspapers.

Many of the commentators are unable to see the forest for a few large trees. They tend to see such mergers as a portent of decline of newspapers.

Prof. S. Gale Denley, of the University of Mississippi, has taken another view:

"Such mergers in metropolitan centers are a reflection of expansion rather than decline of the newspaper industry. The growing number of prosperous suburban newspapers have been the main cause of the change.

The trend is nothing new, according to the educator. It is simply a case of advertising following the population. Suburban merchants learn quickly that advertising in the community newspapers is more effective and less expensive than other forms of advertising.

The suburban newspaper serves the same purpose as the country weekly. It thrives in the face of nearby metropolitan competition because retailers never lose sight of the fact that "all business is local."

The community newspaper—whether serving Long Island commuters or a rural county seat—remains the most efficient means for the retailer to sell his wares. It provides saturation coverage of the local market and does not require that the advertiser pay for "wasted circulation" in outside communities.

"Some speakers need no introduction. They need conclusions."

Canada Beats Us To The Draw

While we've been thrifflily cooking up ersatz sandwich fillings for our two-bit pieces and other rattling money, a Sackville, New Brunswick, artist has provided Canada with six distinctive designs for the backs of some special new coins.

The coins, to be minted and placed in circulation next year, will be used to mark Canada's 100th birthday as a nation.

Chosen in open competition, the designs represent wildlife creatures which the artist says have a symbolic association with Canada's history.

Additional symbolism might be read into the choice which seems also to imply speed. Four feet, multi-fins, and a pair of wings are about as speedy standard equipment as money could wish for.

Included in the assortment of designs are the likenesses of a wildcat, a howling wolf, a running rabbit, a swimming mackerel, a Canada goose in flight, and a dove.

If Canadian money spends as fast as its United States equivalent, the poor dove will find any rest for the sole of her foot to be constantly fluctuating.

A news item says that if the new coins meet with public approval they may remain in permanent use. Topside they will bear the likeness of Queen Elizabeth as the current Canadian coins do.

No announcement has been made of plans to redesign any U. S. coins. But just in case we do and before we are enjoined to spend more and keep less, here is a suggestion:

If we ever go back to producing cartwheels, how about using a tortoise on one side to insure less speed on take-off and guarantee safe arrival at destination?

Might be a hare-brained idea but a variation of the theme worked for Aesop.

One Political Opinion

Though our 16 years' service in the Texas Legislature was won by way of each time being elected as a nominee of the Democratic party, up to a few years ago we nevertheless contended that a strong Republican party—enthusiastically contesting with the Democrats—would serve the best interests of the Texas people.

The fallacy of our conclusion only became clearly evident to us upon our first attempt at the preparation of an argument in support of our conclusion favoring the situation productive of two strong political parties in Texas.

In this attempt we were immediately confronted with the fact that in no state wherein the Republicans and Democrats are of near equal strength, was the government as free of graft and corruption as in our state, and equally that Texas people came nearer realizing a dollar value in labor and materials for every tax dollar spent than the people of any other state. Equally we found that there was no state freer from political corruption and scandal than Texas.

These irrefutable—practically conceded—facts forthwith convinced us that our conclusions favoring two strong parties contending for political control of Texas had been founded only on wishful thinking.

...About Your Social Security

Social security beneficiaries can earn more in 1966 without losing any of their payments, according to James E. Forbus, acting district manager of social security in San Antonio.

Starting in 1966 the $1200 a year limit has been increased to $1500; if earnings are $1500 or less, there will be no adjustment or withholding of social security benefits. Beneficiaries earning more than $1500 a year, but under $2700, will have one dollar withheld for each two dollars they earn over $1500. Above $2700, the withholding will be on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

The monthly limit has also been changed. No matter how much a beneficiary earns for the year, he can receive his social security check for any month in which he does not earn wages of more than $125, and is not active in a business of his own.

A Bishop Looks at Life

by BISHOP E. H. JONES of The Episcopal Church

Not long ago I was conferring with a young man who was planning to quit school without completing his college education. After I tried to show him why I thought this would be a mistake, he shot at me this question: "Whose business is it what I do with my life?" I have been thinking about this question, and in this annual graduation season I would like to pass on some of my answers.

My first answer is that it is my business. I have to live with myself, and the decisions I make today will affect my life tomorrow. It is a divine law that whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap. I am free to choose but I am not free from the consequences of my choices.

A second answer is that it is the business of my family and my friends. I cannot escape a responsibility to those who have loved me and believed in me. It is within my power to bring them joy or sorrow, pride or disappointment. Many times, when we are tempted to do some foolish thing, it is the memory of our friends and loved ones which holds us to our best. I know men who keep in their pocket a picture of those dearest to them, so that in moments of confusion they may remember those who expect great things of them.

Again, it is the business of society what I do with my life. I came into a world where much has been done for me; I live under a good government, in a city with schools, churches, courts of law. I have been entrusted with the privileges of a free land; all such trust puts me under heavy responsibility to prove worthy of that trust. Most important of all, it is God's business. He made me; He gave me all the blessings of my life; some day I shall stand before Him to give account. The Bible is the revelation to me of how much He cares, and how far He has gone in the gift of His Son to bring me to Himself. I am sure this is what St. Paul meant when he said, "Know ye not that ye are not your own? Ye are bought with a price." (1 Cor. 6:19, 20)

Where Food is Finest...It's Cooked with GAS

Take your favorite restaurant, for example. The odds are that the food is cooked with GAS, because nine out of ten of America's professional chefs use it. They need the kind of control only GAS can provide. They demand hundreds of cooking temperatures...not just five or six. And they get heat right now! Turn a burner on a gas range up, down, on or off and the heat goes up, down, on or off—instantly! GAS cooking is the best kind. Don't you agree?

THREE FOR ONE? Three men shared the credit for catching this 31-pound catfish last week in Haby's Cypress Cove at Medina Lake. Bait used was carp but the lucky anglers found no cause to carp about their catch which made a good fish-fry later. Seated, Raul Gonzalez. Standing (l-r) Robert Wiemers, Elgin Stiegler. The men also caught a good string of channel catfish. —AH Photo

DOUBLE TROUBLE - Rattle-snake time is here. This two-headed rattlesnake was caught in 1948 by Tex Sullivan of Sabinal. The moral: Beware of rattlesnakes when he worked at the reptile gardens in San Antonio. UVALDE

Preparations for the annual Honey Capitol Cowboys Rodeo in Uvalde on June 9-11 are under way according to Ed Sims, president of the sponsoring Uvalde Quarter Horse Association. The modern rodeo arena at the City Exposition Grounds has had new sand put in the arena and is in the best shape in years for the ground-busting contests.

Highlight of the 3-day affair will be the parade on Saturday morning, June 11, when astronaut Pete Conrad and his family will serve as parade marshals. According to parade chairman, Will Paradeaux, more float entries than in many years have been lined up, both locally and from out of town. There will be several bands to liven up the procession together with clowns and, of course, plenty of horses.

Judg for the Rodeo Queen will be held during the rodeo and participants can get entry forms by writing Mrs. Houston Evans, Route 1, Knippa, Texas, or by contacting the Uvalde Chamber of Commerce. Any organization may sponsor a contestant but she must live within a 40 mile radius of Uvalde. She also must be between the ages of 14 and 18 years. Miss Janet Langford of Reagan Wells is the current reigning queen.

MADISONVILLE

State officials, last Friday, confirmed a screwworm case on the Jimmy Farris ranch, three miles east of Midway in Madison County.

This is the first screwworm case to be confirmed in Madison County in three years, said county agent Ross Garrett.

The largest number of Methodist preachers ever to hear their appointments read out in a single session will be assigned to their posts in the final service of a 4-day conference to be held June 6-9 at Southern Methodist University in Dallas. Area Methodist ministers will

Peace Corps Test Offered June 11

Medina County residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps Placement Test at 9 a.m. on Saturday, June 11, at Room 618, Federal Bldg., San Antonio.

The Peace Corps uses the Placement Test to determine how an applicant can be utilized overseas. The Test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. (If Test scores indicate a limited language-learning ability, for example, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English-speaking country.) The Placement Test requires no preparation and is non-competitive — an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The application form, not the Placement Test, is the most important factor in the selection of Volunteers. Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the Test. Applications may be obtained from local post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D.C. 20525.

The Placement Test takes about an hour and a half.

FREDERICKSBURG

The first shipment of turkeys from an area turkey farm east of Kerrville on U. S. Highway 290, has been processed and has gone to market.

The hens, 20 weeks old, were processed at the farm's plant Friday, and on Tuesday morning were on sale in Baltimore, Maryland.

Top capacity of the farm is 120,000 birds, although there will probably never be that many on the farm at any one time.

ALICE

The flax crop would have been worth $1,000,000 to the Jim Wells County economy prior to the prolonged rains.

The county has some 25,000 acres of flax planted. The pasture in the county is excellent and cattle are fat. The market of cattle has continued up and is a boost to the economy.

STONEWALL

The annual Stonewall Peach Jamboree is on its way and highlighting the day-long activities again this year will be an Old Time Fiddlers Contest.

The contest, which proved to be the big crowd pleaser at the 1965 Jamboree, will be held at 2 p.m., Saturday, June 25.

Exponents of old time, hoe-down fiddling are invited to enter the contest by contacting Don Dailey and Associates, 422 Three A Life Bldg., San Antonio, Texas.

BEEVILLE

The Commissioners Court Friday passed a resolution authorizing County Attorney Richard Rudloff to file suits for delinquent county taxes which would otherwise be barred by limitation during the current calendar year.

Priority will be given to suits involving $100 or more, according to the resolution.

PEARSALL

The potato season has reached its peak and all sheds are running a full schedule. The harvesting was held up a few days because of rains but the diggers are back at work and trucks from every state in the nation are arriving daily, loading and leaving out. The potatoes are grading out good despite the excess moisture, prices and demand are fair.

PLEASANTON

Lightning struck and killed 11 head of cattle on the William L. Thompson farm, four miles from Kyote and Big Foot, Saturday night.

Mrs. Thompson and her three small sons, Hal, Chris and Jeff, went out to check on the cattle Sunday afternoon and found the carcasses of the dead animals.

Cattle were in a long line next to a newly-built barbed wire fence, according to Mrs. Thompson. She said one calf was knocked across the fence.

The cattle included heavy springers, two baby calves and 500-600 pound yearlings.

A Pearsall veterinarian said the animals apparently were struck in the electrical storm Saturday night. Clark Sadler, Big Foot deputy, estimated the loss at between $1500 and $2000.

PONDS BUILT IN DISTRICT

Following very favorable rains in the Medina Valley Soil Conservation District, farmers and ranchers are again applying conservation practices.

Edgar Saathoff is constructing a farm pond for wildlife. The pond will cover approximately two and one-half surface acres. It will be properly stocked and fertilized for fish. The depth of the pond will be approximately 18 - 20 feet, beneficial for better fish growth and will give satisfactory permanent water. The pond can also be used for livestock and will serve for better distribution of grazing land.

Stock farming south of Devine, Pete Morales, Jr. is constructing three ponds to furnish adequate water for livestock. They will also be stocked with fish for recreational purposes. Wesley Huesser of Hondo has completed a farm pond on his rangeland, west of D'Hanis. This pond will furnish water for livestock and give better distribution of grazing land. Huesser is also clearing brush by root-plowing and stacking.

Grass throughout the District is above average due to favorable rains. Grain sorghum and corn are also above normal. Crop production looks very favorable in the entire District.
